a syndicate to get the Main Street franchise, known as the Virginia Conduit Cempany he had gotten Captain A. Pizmini, Jr., in because he thought the Captain would be valuable to the company, because he was infinential with the Street Committee and the Council. He explained how, through Mr. Wilson, of New York, the company had come to an agreement with the interests behind the old company by which they were to receive $200,000 and in addition the Jengkins underground system was to be used on Main Street if the test of that system should prove satisfactory. The syndicate was to be paid in cash, but when a settlement was made only $45,000 was paid in money, and the balance in common steet and bonds. The original amount was never paid, and only $100,000 lit money and stock was received finally, and then only after the services of Mr. C. V. Meredith had been secured to represent them and their interests.

Questioned by Mr. Minor, the witness said that so far as he knew no part of the money had been paid to any Councilmen. The expense of the test of the underground system was paid and attorneys fees, and the balance distributed among the members of the syndicate. Mr. Robertson said their main fight from the first was to secure the Jenkins underground system on Main Street, and if it had not been for their interest in this system they would have taken no part in the fight!

Asked if he thought Captain Pizzmi had spent any money in the matter of franchises, witness said he had always had a suspicion in the affirmative, though he had no reason to know of this of his own personal knowledge.

The committee at 6 o'clock rose to meet at 8 o'clock to-morrow night.

PLAN ADOPTED FOR CO-ORDINATION

The Report Will Be Made to * the Association in Staunton Next Month.

After a session extending through about four hours the committee appointed by the Education Commission of the Baptist General Association of Virginia yesterday completed the work of drafting a scheme for the co-ordination of the Baptist schools and colleges of the State.

It was decided by the committee to make no publication of its results until an official statement can be printed next week in the Religious Herald, the organ of the denomination. It is gathered, howelaborate, but will merely suggest and recommend a simple plan by means of which the schools may be brought into closer relation as under same alliance. From this basis there will be a gradual movement to the co-ordination of the schools into a system of which Richmond College and the Woman's College in this city will be the head.

The committee will report to the commission which will meet with the association in Staunton next month, it was composed of Dr. R. H. Pitt, Dr. W. E. Smith, Dr. W. E. Hatcher, Dr. F. W. Boatwright, Dr. Charles H. Ryland, and Dr. George Cooper.

The number of students at Richmond College continues to increase, and, al-though the session is now somewhat ad-vanced, hardly a day passes that sevvanced, hardly a day passes that everal new students are not matriculated. The arrival of Mr. Rollins, one of last year's best second team men, was halled with delight. He weights over 180 pounds and is unusually active. It is a source of great disappointment to the student body and the management that the game scheduled here Saturday, October 17th, with Washington and Lee, has been changed. The park for that week has been engaged by the Carnival Company, and it leaves no place for the game to be played in Richmond. The park in Petersburg has been engaged for that date and a special train has been charitered to take the students over and any others who may wish to go, A large crowd is expected, for both Washington and Lee and Richmond College have many loyal rooters in town and there are many more who though not interested especially in either place still love the sport and enjoy a good game when it can be seen the second of the sec games has not been as large as could be wished.

The game scheduled for Saturday, October 16th, promises to be one of the most exciting of the scason. Fredericks-burg defeated the college in their last burg defeat and are determined to wipe out the stain and repay with interest.

At a meeting of the student body Wednesday morning the following were elected to act as the Executive Committee of the different buildings:

The Democrats held a mass meeting The Democrats held a mass meeting early in August and voted against nominations and primaries, and decided in favor of a "free-for-all" fight. Soon afterwards there were three Democratic candidates in the field for the office of treasurer and two for the office of commissioner of the revenue, against 5no. He advocated permanent improvements rather than temporary improvements of public roads.

That part of his address to the old soldiers was most pathetic and touching, as was plainly evident by the tears which filled the eves of many. He referred to the marvelous achievements of Virginia's past and the possibility of her future, and expressed himself as highly pleased with the splendid exhibits of the farmers and stock growers of the county, as well as the handlwork of the ladies.

All in all, his speech was masterly and thoroughly educative. It would not be saying too much to rank it as one of the ablest speeches that has ever been heard in the county of Grayson.

The fair is fully up to the standard, and it is thought that five thousand people passed through the gates to-day, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather.

Colored Commissioners of the Revenue Will Run Again.

colored Commissioners of the Neventral Colored to The Times-Dispatch.)

BOYDTON, VA., Oct. 7.—The canvass for county officers has been an exceedingly dull and uninteresting one. So far there are only three independent candidates in the field. C. M. Phillips is running as an independent candidate for sheriff: Constable Tilley for commissioner of the revenue, in District No. 1, and S. W. Simmons, in No. 2.

The present incumbents of the office of commissioner of the revenue are both colored Republicans. Neither of them have made any public announcement of their candidacy, but it is generally understood they will both be candidates. It looks now as if they were making a still hunt for the present, and later on, will work vigorously to keep their positions. They are both intelligent and very respectable colored men, and will get the entire support of their party.

Dr. William Townes, of Memphis, Tenn., who is here on a visit to his father, at Cuscowville, and Mr. Richard Sneed, of Vance county, N. C., have been in camp near Clarksville, in company with other gentlemen of the neighborhood, on a fox and deer hunt. During the hunt last week they had a very exciting chase after a deer. The dogs pushed the deer shiver, opposite the town of Clarksville and ran through the town, passing Gooche's bar-room on Main Street, and on out into the country, making good his escape.

THREATS OF GONZALES

One Man Tells of the Conversation in Which Former Editor is Said to Have Declared He Would Fill Tillman Full of Lead.

LEXINGTON, S. C., Oct. 7 .- The de fense in the case of J. H. Tillman to-day entered upon the presentation of its side of the case, Solicitor Thurmond having announced when the trial was resumed to-day that the State would rest, further testimony was offered by the State. Nine witnesses for the defense were heard to-day. It is estimated that the defense will consume the remainder of the week with its witnesses. Juror Sharpe, who has been sick for the past three days, was able to sit through today, although court was adjourned an our earlier on his account. The defense first renewed the motion to have the jury instructed to disregard all testimony relative to the possession of a weapon by the defendant a day or two prior to the shooting, contending of a weapon by the defendant a day or two prior to the shooting, contending that no connection had been shown between that and the shooting. The court ruled that the testimony was competent, in view of other testimony given by witnesses for the State.

Editorials from the Columbia State, relating to J. H. Tillman, were then read and affirmed in evidence by the defense. In ruling on a point in controversy affecting the introduction of editorials, the court stated that the purpose for which the editorials were admitted was to show the feelings existing between the defendant and N. G. Gonzales.

The first witness called to-day by the defense was T. D. Mitchell, who was a sked if he had had any conversation with N. G. Gonzales in 1902, in which the name of J. H. Tillman was mentioned, He replied in the affirmative, saying: "I think it was some time in September, just after one of those editorials in his paper was published."

A THREAT MADE.

Winess said he met Mr. Gonzales in the street, and asked by counsel to detail the conversation, said among other things that he asked Mr. Gonzales if he didn't "think it about time to let up on 'Old Jim." The witness further stated that Gonzales said, "If he ever bats his eyes at me I'll fill him so full of lead he can't tote it off."

Witness said he told Mr. Tillman of the conversation.

Witness said he told Mr. Tillman of the conversation.
On cross-examination witness said he forced the conversation on Mr. Gonzaies; also that he knew Mr. Gonzaies, but never was introduced to him, and further that he had been told a few days after the shooting that the conversation would be good evidence for the defendant. He said he had sympathized with Ambrose E. Convales.

said he had sympathized with Amores. E. Gonzales.

A. J. Flowers, a street railway conductor, in Columbia in 1902, in answer to counsel for the defense, said he had heard a conversation had by Mr. Gonzales during the summer of 1992. He said Mr. Gonzales and three other men were riding on his car in Columbia. Asked to state the conversation, the witness said:

"I had a big load of passengers and was going around collecting fares and helping the ladies and children off and on, and I got pretty close to them collecting fares, and they were discussing politics, the three men and Mr. Gon-inim tell them that if he did not succeed in defeating Mr. Tilliman in the Governor's office that he would never be seated, because he would kill the rascal."

He said he did not think anything of the remarks at the time, and on cross-examination said it was not until two months ago that he told of this. In answer to further questions, he said he wrote to the defendant. The letter was introduced by counsel for defense, and in it, the witness said he would appear as a witness if he could be of any service. He was a member of Colonel Tilliman's regiment.

P. W. Hughes, of Warrenton, said he was in Columbia, in 1902, and while walking down Main Street, with four men, whom he named, they met Mr. Gonzales. A Mr. Stroud, of their number, he said, was asked by Mr. Gonzales about the mill vote. He said he asked Mr. Gonzales if he didn't think he had done Mr. Tillman a great injustice, to which, he said, Mr. Gonzales replied that he "would get greater injustice after election and it ought to be lead."

August Bislock testified that he was with Mr. Hughes at the time and that he heard this conversation.

CARRIED A GUN.

N. B. Cheshire, a printer, on an Anderson (6, C.) newspaper, was asked to state what he told Mr. Tillman at a campaign meeting in Anderson in 1900. Objection was raised by counsel for the State on the ground that the statement was not made by Mr. Gonzales and consequently hearsey. The jury was sent out, when the witness said:

"I told him a representative of the State (newspaper) told me that Gonzales carried a gun for him and that he had better not jump on him with a stick, for if he did, he would get he—I shot out of him."

After a lengthy argument by counsel extending beyond the dinner recess, the court ruled that the testimony was competent, when the witness made the statement before the fury.

The representative of the State referred to, he said, was Mr. Geer, subscription solicitor for the paper, James Davis, the last witness called, had but begun on his testimony when Judge Gary ordered an adjournment, that the sick juror might not be overtaxed.

ing order; Garber & Garber's Truth and Leo, H. M. Backett's Helen M. and Allco M., and T. M. Terry's team.

A great deal of enthusiasm was aroused in the next event, which was for local laddes' turnouts. C. M. Guggenheimer's Whirl, driven by Miss Lula Abbott, of Bellevue, took first honor; C. S. Adam's Miss Virginia, driven by Miss Nannie Langhorne, second; Walter M. Carroll's Florodora, driven by Mrs. Fred. Harper, daughter of Senator John W. Daniel, third, and Mrs. G. H. Wilkins' Roderick Dhu, driven by herself, fourth.

Saddle horses came next on the programme, and there were nine handsome entries. After much deliberation, which took a long time and evidently gave the judges much trouble, the blue ribbon went to Kentucky Cardinal, a handsome bay gelding, owned by J. B. McComb., C. M. Guggenheimer's Helen Gray, a spirited animal and a light gray, was a close second, while E. H. Josiln's Rubicon took third and R. G. Mitcheli's Lady Rockbridge, fourth. entitled to a prize.

THE TANDEM. THE TANDEM.

Sporting tandems was one of the most interesting features of the evening. There were eight entries, and it was necessary to keep four teams lined up while the other four showed off their qualities. Dodo and The Bee took the blue ribbon. The last event of the evening was a most numerous class, that of heavy weight hunters. There were fourteen entries, and this meant a hard job for the judges. The ribbons, however, were finally awarded, and the judgment of the judges seemed to meet with the approval of the crowd.

With an inspiring selection from the band the first night of the Horse Show came to a close.

came to a close.
